Like slavery and apartheid, poverty is not natural. It is man-made and it can be overcome and eradicated by the actions of human beings.

WHAT IS FOODBANK SOUTH AFRICA?

South Africa is capable of providing enough food for its whole population. However, 1 in 3 South Africans do not know where their next meal will come from.

Nelson Mandela is correct. The problem of hunger in South Africa is entirely man-made, and can be eradicated just like slavery and apartheid.

FoodBank South Africa is a non-profit organization that was formed early in March 2009 to engage with food donors, food manufacturers, retailers, faith based organizations and government in addressing hunger in South Africa.

Foodbank South Africa has the support of national, provincial and local government, as well as traditional leaders.

FoodBank South Africa has already established 3 Community FoodBanks and plans to establish several more.
